

Now, for the first time on video, witness the differences in terrain and hunting techniques between Wyoming and New Mexico!

PRONGHORN HUNTING

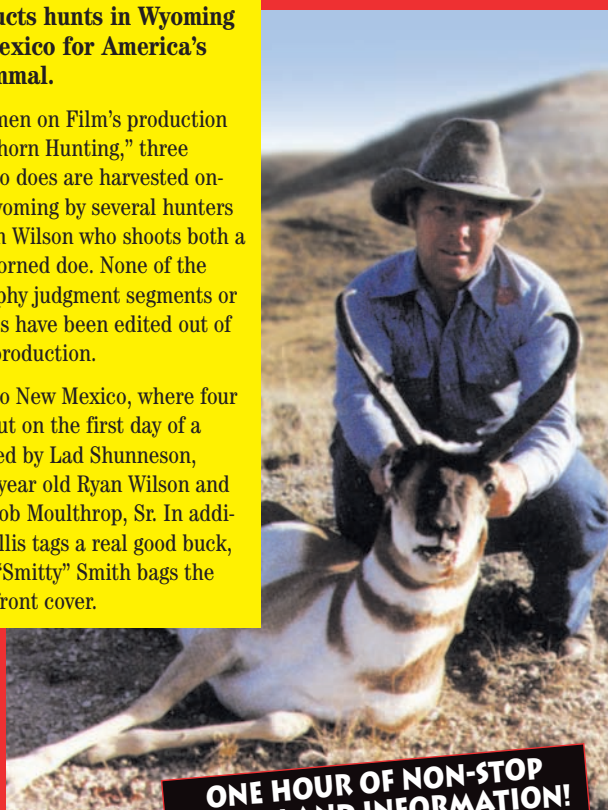

Wyoming and New Mexico

Join famed pronghorn guide-outfitter-hunt organizer Lad Shunneson as he conducts hunts in Wyoming and New Mexico for America's fastest mammal.

From Sportsmen on Film's production titled "Pronghorn Hunting," three bucks and two does are harvested on-camera in Wyoming by several hunters including Ken Wilson who shoots both a buck and a horned doe. None of the excellent trophy judgment segments or exciting hunts have been edited out of the original production.

Then it's on to New Mexico, where four hunters fill out on the first day of a hunt organized by Lad Shunneson, including 17-year old Ryan Wilson and 82-year old Bob Moulthrop, Sr. In addition, Roger Ellis tags a real good buck, and William "Smitty" Smith bags the buck on the front cover.
